Of Ruin For Ireland Seems To Have Reached Turning Point.

National Convention to Be Held in Dublin at Early Date.

Case of Farrell, Who Is in Prison For Denouncing Land Grabbers.

EMERALD ISLE'S NEW PLANTATION

Each succeeding week Hon. T. P. O'Connor has something interesting to say on subjects dear to every Irishman. This week he has written as follows to the Chicago Tribune: Ireland's interest and excitement is in sharp contrast to the quietude in England. Already the clash of arms is heard in preparation for the great national convention which will decide the fate of Birrell's land bill. All feel that Ireland is approaching the great turning point in its history. In England, already the clash of arms is heard in preparation for the great national convention which will decide the fate of Birrell's land bill. All feel that Ireland is approaching the great turning point in its history.

The landlords are in an unholy alliance against the bill, and O'Brien is charging Birrell and Dillon with the extraordinary purpose to strangle the land purchase with Birrell's bill. The landlords, making a sinner of Birrell, denounce the bill as a surrender to the landless and the possibility of a new election abolishes the relief of landlessness on reasonable terms and gives to the congested districts in the West gigantic subsidies for improvement and purchase.

It is the first real chance for a resurrection from the present wretchedness and the Irish party is practically unanimous for the bill with the exception of O'Brien, and he figures on disorders in Ireland. If the landlords, encouraged by O'Brien and the possibility of a new election and a Tory triumph, hold out, then indeed disaster will come. It is Ireland's fierce desire to be done finally with landlordism and the ranches and, if Parliament will not do it, she will do it herself.

Mr. O'Connor predicts a general election in the United Kingdom within two years at least. Of course this means a dissolution of the present Parliament before that time. And he says that if the Irish party is concerned, it would welcome a dissolution the first moment the bill of Birrell, finally disposing of the land question, was passed into law. That bill has many enemies. It is true; no one of which has done more to imperil its fortunes unfortunately than Mr. William O'Brien.

He persists in seeing in the provisions of the Wyndham act the one way out of the land problem, but in that opinion he stands alone among Irish Nationalists, though, of course, the Wyndham act, with its ultra favorable terms to the landlords, is naturally also the ideal of the whole landlord party in both Ireland and the House of Lords. Such an act is, in the opinion of the Irish party, a complete reversal of all that bad and wicked past. The Estates Commissioners all over Ireland are buying up these cleared lands and are reselling them to the tenants. The tenants are therefore taking the place of the landlords.

Under Birrell's new bill this process will be accelerated. Here and there the old spirit of greed is indulging men to put themselves in opposition to this movement and to bid for the lands which the Estates Commissioners want to resettle and re-people, and Farrell has been denouncing in vigorous language two or three persons of this type. County Longford, both in speech and in reports to his paper, hence the imprisonment. The chances are that Mr. Farrell will have to be liberated on account of his ill health. He may be the last of the men who had to languish in the legislation necessary to undo the work of Elizabeth, of Cromwell and of the wicked men who in the '40s took advantage of the prostration of Ireland under the awful calamities of hunger and plague to drive her people from their home to exile abroad. We are now witnessing the new plantation of Ireland, derived from the old plantations in this: that it is the planting forever in the soil of the old Irish race and not their expulsion and substitution by the alien from other lands. Which it is worth living to see.

WITH THE SICK.

Three Well Known Men Who Have Been Seriously Ill.

Three well known citizens have been seriously ill during the present week, but each is now believed to be out of danger. Bernard A. Coll, one of Jeffersonville's most esteemed citizens and popular business men, was taken seriously ill late last week, and for a time it was thought an operation for appendicitis would be necessary. Fortunately his condition improved rapidly, and he is now able to be out.

Last Friday night Al Kolb was seized with an attack of acute indigestion at his home on West Green street, near Fourth, and for a time his life was despaired of. He rallied the next day, however, and is improving slowly.

James Kinney, a former Captain of police, is confined to his home on Broadway, near Clay street, with a serious attack of typhoid fever. At last accounts his condition showed little signs of improvement.

NEW RECTOR.

Rev. Father P. M. J. Rock Is Head of Cathedral Parish.

Catholics in every part of the city will welcome the news that the Rev. Father P. M. J. Rock has been appointed pastor of the Cathedral parish by the Right Rev. Bishop McCloskey. His assistants will be the Rev. Fathers D. F. Gallagher and Eugene Donahue.

Father Rock, in point of service, is one of the senior priests of Louisville as well as of the entire diocese. He is the type of priest that does not believe his education is ended when he leaves the seminary. As pastor of St. Cecilia's church, during his long service as an assistant priest at the Cathedral, Father Rock has ever been a student. Those who are competent judges declare that he has the most thorough knowledge of canon law of any priest in the diocese.

His new duties will no doubt interrupt his studies to a certain extent, but Father Rock has always been faithful to his vow of obedience; he bows to the will of his bishop, and does all in his power for the greater honor and glory of God.

CONSECRATION

Of Bishop Owen B. Corrigan Was Made Solemn Function.

The Right Rev. Owen B. Corrigan was consecrated Bishop of Macra and Bishop-Auxiliary to His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop of Baltimore, last Sunday morning. The consecration took place in the magnificent Cathedral of Baltimore, and the solemn ceremony brought together many distinguished dignitaries of the church. Cardinal Gibbons was the consecrating prelate and was assisted by the Right Rev. Maurice A. Burke, Bishop of St. Joseph, Mo., and the Right Rev. Benjamin J. Keiley, Bishop of Savannah. Cardinal Gibbons also celebrated the Pontifical high mass. The Rev. Dr. William T. Russell, of Washington, D. C., preached the sermon. Archbishop Burke, of New York, and thirteen other members of the American hierarchy occupied thrones in the sanctuary. The vast edifice was crowded with the laity of Baltimore. Bishop Corrigan is highly esteemed in the ecclesiastical world. He succeeded the late Bishop Curtis, titular Bishop of China, and was Vice General of the Baltimore diocese.

ACCIDENT'S VICTIM.

John P. Bott, thirty-one years old and a popular member of the community, fell a victim to a peculiar accident on Thursday last week and thereby lost his life. Mr. Bott was helping to remove a piano from a wagon to the sidewalk, when the instrument fell upon him, inflicting injuries that caused his death. The young man was removed to the home of his father-in-law, Henry A. Beyer, 1331 West Main street, but died soon after. He is survived by his wife. The funeral took place from St. Patrick's church Sunday afternoon. Mr. Bott was highly esteemed by all who knew him.

MAKES MANY MOURN.

St. Cecilia's parish lost one of its most beloved young ladies by the death of Miss Mollie Lawler, who passed away at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lawler, 2430 St. Xavier street, on Thursday afternoon of last week. The deceased was born in Louisville thirty-five years ago, and all her life had been spent in working for the church, the sick, the poor and distressed. Besides her parents she is survived by one sister, Miss Julia Lawler, and three brothers, James, Michael D. and Eugene Lawler. The funeral took place from St. Cecilia's church Saturday morning, and many sorrowing friends followed the remains to their last resting place in St. Louis cemetery.

AUSPICIOUS

Was Opening For Central Committee, C. K. of A., Held Last Week.

President Schalda Makes Brief Announcement of His Plans.

Committees Named and Reports Heard From Many Branches.

FINE FEAST FOR THE FINALE

The Central Committee of the Catholic Knights of America held its annual session and installation of officers at St. Mary's Hall on Friday night of last week. The hall was thronged as never before. President McGinn occupied the chair and every branch in the Falls Cities was represented. On behalf of the membership committee Harry Veeneeman reported that a number of additions to the order were in prospect. After the usual routine business had been disposed of and all the bills outstanding having been ordered paid, Supreme Delegate Veeneeman and State Secretary Meehan installed the new officers in an impressive manner.

President John Schalda was given a rousing cheer when conducted to his chair. When called upon for a speech he said he wanted it understood that during his administration all meetings of the committee would be held promptly and conclude as speedily as the necessary business could be dispatched. He also admonished the delegates to cut their addresses short and to the point. President Schalda then announced the following committee chairmen: Entertainment—William M. Higgins.

Membership—Harry Veeneeman, East End; Thomas Feely, West End. Ritual—William T. Meehan.

Employment—Joseph P. McGinn and Gen. Gas Kane. The complete committee will be announced at the next meeting. Resolutions were adopted thanking President McGinn and the other officers for their labors during the past year. Short talks were made by Vice President Charles J. Desse, Secretary Krueger, Treasurer Feely, and Charles Hill and Capt. John B. Murphy, of Jeffersonville.

Branch 4 reported through Delegate Thomas Feely one new application. President Franks reported in behalf of Branch 6 one new member. He said that all were prompt in meeting their obligations. Branch 6 will install its officers on the night of Wednesday, January 20, and will adjourn early in order to attend the enche to be given by Branch 642. On the following Tuesday evening Branch 642 will install its officers.

On behalf of Branch 23 President Meehan announced the loss of one member by death. The deceased, he said, had paid $800 to the order in twenty-six years, and his family would receive $2,000 benefit. Mr. Meehan also told how his branch was allowing premiums for new members. One new member and five in prospect were reported from Branch 32. Charles Hill reported one application from Branch 45. Branch 642 announced three applications and several others in prospect.

Branch 34 of Jeffersonville reported that Delegate John Kenney had secured twenty-four applications during the past six months. Mr. Kenney was congratulated and made a splendid talk on the benefits connected with membership in the Catholic Knights of America.

The Trustees, Capt. John B. Murphy and Charles J. Desse, reported that they had examined the books of Treasurer Falk, and had found them correct, well kept and a balance in the treasury. Harry Veeneeman invited all to attend Branch 642's enche on January 20, and the members adjourned.

After the business session ended the members adjourned to partake of a bounteous spread prepared in an adjoining room by Henry Hinnold. The feast was thoroughly enjoyed.

MACKIN COUNCIL

Shows Splendid Fiscal Report For the Year Just Closed.

A splendid attendance greeted the new officers of Mackin Council last Tuesday night, many members having to travel miles through snow to attend the meeting. President Louis Kieffer presided like a veteran. One new member was elected, and the Visiting Committee reported John Kraker, Andrew Schlegel and Al Kolb improving; that D. J. Hummel was seriously ill and would have to submit to an operation on the following day.

President Kieffer announced the following standing committees for the ensuing year:

Arbitration—John T. Kenny, Chas. S. Raily, Frank G. Adams, Patrick T. Sullivan and Thomas D. Cline.

Employment—Ben J. Sand, Samuel Robertson, Charles H. Seluh, Thomas H. Hayden and Thomas Henley.

Visiting Committee reported John Kraker, Andrew Schlegel and Al Kolb improving; that D. J. Hummel was seriously ill and would have to submit to an operation on the following day.

Delegates to Catholic Federation—Camden McAtce, Sebastian Hubbuch, Walter Adams, Andy Knst, Thomas Keenaa, Jr., Tyler Charlton, James Mullarkey, Frank Lananhan, Robert Weiland and J. Clay Xesin.

Reports of the fiscal officers showed that $1,890 had been received by Mackin Council during 1908; that nearly $1,000 had been expended for sick and death benefits and other charities, but that after all bills had been paid the treasury had developed an increase of $1,390 over the previous year. Treasurer Dan Weber was congratulated on his splendid report.

The council accepted an invitation to attend the Gallagher Club's minstrel show in New Albany, which was repeated last Wednesday and Thursday nights. An invitation from the Rev. Father Felton to attend the minstrel show for the benefit of St. Augustine's church on the nights of February 17 and 18 was also accepted.

HONORS MARTIN.

Made Second Highest Officer in Young Men's Institute.

Albert F. Martin, of this city, formerly President of Trinity Council and Past Grand President of the Kentucky Jurisdiction, has been appointed Deputy Supreme President of the Y. M. I. The appointment was made known to Mr. Martin in a letter received from Supreme President L. E. Mahan, of Eureka, Cal., a few days ago. In writing of the appointment Supreme President Mahan said:

"Let us set 20,000 as our mark and endeavor to reach that number in membership during the next two years. We can do it if we will work all together, and I have no doubt you will do your part."

He hopes to hear from you often regarding the condition of affairs in your district, and any suggestion you have to offer from time to time will be thankfully received."

The appointment came to Mr. Martin entirely unlooked for, but is nevertheless appreciated by him and his friends. As a special agent of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company Mr. Martin travels all over the Kentucky Jurisdiction, and can readily keep in touch with the conditions at each point. As Deputy Supreme President he is head of the Y. M. I. in Kentucky, and his many friends are congratulating him on his new honor.

NICE AFFAIR.

Banquet Followed Routine When Hibernians Installed Officers.

Division 1, A. O. H., of Paris, has installed the following officers: F. F. Roche, President; Pat Kane, Vice President; M. Flanagan, Treasurer; George Doyle, Financial Secretary; F. S. Elder, Recording Secretary; Thomas Kne, Sergeant-at-Arms. President Roche has appointed the following committee for the year: Sick—Pat Kane, Dan Lennan and James Dempsey.

Employment—M. Flanagan, R. J. Brannon and John Connell. Literary—Prof. Costello, William Grannan and George Doyle.

Finance—M. J. Lavin, George Doyle and John McCarthy. After the installation Wednesday night of last week the members sat down to a sumptuous banquet, and that peerless entertainer of the Bourbon county capital, Prof. Costello, presided as toastmaster. A vote of thanks was given Thomas Lennan and Joseph Higgins, who had arranged the banquet.

FRIENDLY SONS' OFFICERS.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick of Cincinnati will be held this evening at the Havlin Hotel. Under the rule President John J. Gilligan will then retire in favor of another member, who will preside at the social sessions and banquet of 1909.

COLORED ORPHANS' HOME.

The excellent work done by the Sisters of the Good Shepherd for the colored orphans has necessitated the erection of additional quarters, and to that end a site has been secured at the southwest corner of Eighth and Walnut streets. The property was transferred this week from the Board of Trustees of the O'Leary Home to the Right Rev. Bishop McCloskey. The site includes a building on a lot 70x106 feet. Many improvements will be necessary before the building will be adequate for the purpose to which it is destined.

GENEROUS.

Local Divisions of the Hibernians and Auxiliary Give to Italians.

Grand Order Has Long Record of Bounteous Charity in Wake.

In Sickness, Death and Suffering Men and Women Give Aid.

SOME OF THE MANY CHARITIES

Each of the four local divisions of the Ancient Order of Hibernians has donated $25 to the people of Italy and Sicily who suffered from the recent earthquake. Division 1 was the first to respond to the appeals made by National President Matthew Cummings and State President George J. Butler. In all probability the division would have contributed even if the appeals had not been made. The other divisions followed the example of Division 1 on their respective meeting nights. The money will go through the regular channels of the State and national officers until it reaches Archbishop O'Connell, of Boston, National Chaplain of the order. His Grace will forward it to the proper authorities in Rome, who will see that it is properly distributed among the stricken ones in Italy and Sicily. The Ladies' Auxiliary, too, was generous according to its means, and made its funds in part for the proper authorities in Rome, who will see that it is properly distributed among the stricken ones in Italy and Sicily.

The four divisions and the Ladies' Auxiliary have given largely in charity and in sick and death benefits during the past year, as they have in former years, and we know how they declare the Ancient Order of Hibernians has given more in charity during the past twenty years than any Catholic fraternal society in the United States. Within the past twenty years the order expended for educational and charitable purposes the magnificent sum of $1,503,302. Of this $7,174,156 went for sick benefits and funeral expenses. In donations to churches, schools and orphan asylums $4,811,146 was spent, and that amount does not include the $50,000 that was given to found a chair of Irish in the Catholic University at Washington. The Johnstown, Charleston, Kansas City and Galveston flood and earthquake sufferers received $100,000 each from the Hibernians, and the splendid sum of $44,000 went to those who suffered by the earthquake and fire in San Francisco. The Gaelic League in Ireland has received $15,000 from the order, and in 1908 the sum of $1,000 was sent to those who suffered from famine in the West of Ireland. It contributed $10,000 toward fitting an ambulance corps for the Boers in their war against British oppression a few years ago. The Ladies' Auxiliary gave $10,000 to found a scholarship at Trinity College.

Only recently the Hibernians contributed $5,000 to the erection of a monument to be erected at Gross Lee Newfoundland in memory of Irish fever ship famine victims. They have also given recently the splendid sum of $20,000 to the Catholic Church Extension Society, and it is estimated that not less than $10,000 has been expended in purchasing Irish histories for parochial schools.

The Ladies' Auxiliary, though not as large as the Hibernians and not as well off financially, has aided according to its means in all of these works of charity. Irishmen and women everywhere are proud of these two truly fraternal and Catholic charitable organizations, and many priests and Bishops consider the Hibernian order the right arm of the church.

CLANS WILL MEET

When the Catholic Knights Give Euchre, Lotto and Dance.

Branch 642, C. K. of A., often called St. Michael's branch, will give its first grand lotto, euchre and dance at Trinity Council's club house, Baxter avenue and Morton, next Wednesday evening. Both the upper and lower halls will be used. Many handsome prizes have been offered for the lotto and euchre games, and an excellent orchestra has been secured for the dance.

President Harry A. Veeneeman, Secretary Ben Kruse, Col. Joseph P. McGinn, James Welsh and William Cushing are members of the committee arranging for the event.

While not the oldest, branch St. Michael's is one of the oldest and best balanced in the city. It has provided for many widows and orphans, its delegates have been regular in attendance at meetings of the Central Committee, and its officers have always been capable and efficient.

It is not too much to expect that Branch 642 will have as guests delegates from each of the other branches in the Falls Cities.

AGED MAN'S FALL.

Michael D. Hogan, one of the oldest Irish-Americans in Louisville, though not an old resident of the city, fell on the ice covered pavement Monday and sustained a fracture of his left hip. He was removed to the residence of his son, Michael Hogan, Christy avenue, near Baxter, where he is now resting as comfortably as possible under the circumstances. Mr. Hogan is eighty years old, and is fond of God's sunlight and fresh air. Four years ago he suffered a similar accident and sustained a broken bone on the right hip. His remarkable constitution and will power may possibly bring him through his present crisis, and all his friends hope for his speedy recovery.

LONG ILLNESS

Ends in Death of Michael W. Logan, a Popular Citizen.

Many residents of Louisville expressed sincere sorrow Wednesday when they learned of the death of Michael W. Logan, a veteran Irish-Catholic, steamboatman, Democrat and public servant. Death occurred after a long illness extending over a period of eight years, but for the past two years he had been unable to assume any active duties. He died at his home, on Thirty-third street, between Missouri and Ridd avenues.

Mike Logan was born in Louisville fifty-four years ago, and received his education in the Catholic schools. He was bright, intelligent and quick witted. At an early age he was employed as a clerk on steamboats plying between Pittsburgh and New Orleans. After nearly twenty years of service on the river he was appointed a deputy in the Back Tax Collector's office in Louisville. Later he served as deputy in the City Tax Receiver's office, City Assessor's office and as one of the deputies under Jailer John R. Pfanz.

His wife, who was Miss Lizzie Dunn, died about eight years ago. Four children, all minors, survive him. They are Graham and Joseph Logan and Misses Lillie and Estelle Logan.

The funeral took place from the Church of Our Lady, of Portland, on Friday morning and was largely attended. The Rev. Father James J. Coniff celebrated the requiem mass, and while administering the viaticum, did not fail to eulogize the character of Michael W. Logan.

APPEALS ANSWERED.

Division 4 Acts Promptly on Request of Visiting Officers.

Inclement weather caused a falling off in the attendance of Division 4, A. O. H., Monday night, but what was lacking in numbers was made up in enthusiasm. President John H. Heeneasy occupied the chair. Applauded for membership was made by Stephen C. Dooney and Pat O'Leary. William J. Reardon and Michael Rohan were reported ill, but Charles Callahan, who had been on the sick list, was reported as fully restored to health.

State President George J. Butler and County President P. J. Welsh were present and each made an appeal for the Italian earthquake sufferers. Division 4 promptly donated $25 just as the other divisions had done. County President Welsh installed Treasurer Harry Brady, who was unable to be present when the joint installation was held on the first Sunday in January.

State President Butler made a brief address, in which he told how the order was increasing in the State, and of the efforts that were being made to introduce the study of Irish history in the parochial schools. County President P. J. Welsh announced that the meeting of the County Board would be held Tuesday night of next week with Division 1 at Falls City Hall.

HEALTHY SHOWING

Made by Knights of Columbus at Quarterly Board Meeting.

The National Board of Directors of the Knights of Columbus has completed its quarterly meeting at New Haven, Conn., and on Tuesday reports of the proceedings were given to the press. The board voted to omit the April assessment on account of the splendid condition of the order's finances.

Members were advised to continue to contribute to the support and relief of the Italian earthquake sufferers. All sums are requested to be sent to Monsignor Falciano, the Apostolic Delegate at Washington, D. C. It was decided to take $100,000 from the mortuary relief fund for investment. The gross assets of the order showed an increase of $100,000 over last year.

ANOTHER CHURCH EDIFICE.

The Marion County Leader says the Rev. Father Harding, pastor of the church at Campbellsville, and who administered the Ark of the Covenant for a season, is preparing to establish a church and parochial school near Phillipsburg in the near future. The section of the country round Phillipsburg is unsupplied with school and church privileges, and this work of Father Harding will come as a boon to Catholics there.

POPE BLESSES AMERICANS.

"America always first," was the exclamation of Pope Pius X. last Sunday when he received Archbishop Ireland in final audience. His Holiness expressed to the Archbishop his admiration of and gratitude to the American people for the prominent part they are taking in aid of the Italian earthquake sufferers, and asked His Grace to convey the Apostolic benediction to the American people.

Aldermanic Board Kills the Telephone Ordinance in Embryo.

Mayor Grinstead Scored by a Member of the Board Considering.

Secret Service Fund to Be Increased to Provide More Ugly Spies.

ADVERTISING FOR BIDS CEASES

Sad, silent and dark are the tears that are being shed by a few faithful followers over the political grave of Mayor Grinstead. Even his former Republican adherents have helped pitch him into the pit he had dugged with his attack of appendicitis caused his political death. An autopsy revealed that the Kirwan amendment had lodged in his political verniform appendix.

Mayor Grinstead may be consoling himself with the idea that he repeats itself. He may be likening himself into Julius Caesar, who was stabbed by the Senators of Rome, but Caesar Grinstead "got his" before the likes of March, Cassius Reed and Brutus Underhill helped in the destruction of Mayor Grinstead. But there was no Marc Antony! Somebody had to play Marc, and Alderman Tracy Underhill undertook the task. He forgot his history, though, and instead of praising the dead Caesar, gave him a severe castigation. Of course castigation will not hurt a dead man, though it may hurt the aspirations of some of his kinsmen and followers. Marc Antony Underhill did not show the garments of the dead Caesar written on the different thrusts made by the various Senators, but he described Mayor Grinstead as a mariner who trims his sails to every wind, no matter whether they blow from north, south, east or west. Calvus Curran (ridiculous Heyburn thought that the new Marc Antony had fallen down on his knees, and in an attempt to prompt and correct him jumped on Aaron Kolb and stated boldly that anybody who differed from him did it through lack of ignorance. Thereupon Alderman Ascherat, Hess, Horn, Reed, Reichert and Underhill confessed their ignorance by voting in opposition to Mr. Heyburn. The Mayor's friends trembled again over Mayor Grinstead's ordinance, which provided, according to his ideas, for "a comprehensive, regulated telephone system" for the city of Louisville.

Mr. Underhill showed that Mayor Grinstead first favored the ordinance that he had called on the Aldermen together and pressed it on them; that later he saw a new light and favored an amendment. Then he showed that the Mayor did not want the ordinance passed, either as it was or as it was amended. As a matter of fact the Mayor and Aldermen seem more interested in telephone legislation than are the ordinary citizens and telephone patrons.

The city administration made the claim several months ago that it would have money for the city by having certain street improvements made under the jurisdiction of the Board of Public Works instead of letting it to the highest bidder. The city is crushing its own neck for street improvements now at a cost of $1.65 per yard, when contractors formerly furnished it to the city for ninety-five cents a yard. The crushing of stone is not the only instance in which the city and citizens are being duped by the Board of Public Works. If bids are advertised for according to law the city will not fall short in getting what is coming to it.

Councilman Isadore Forst jumped all over the proposed appropriation of $2,500 for the Mayor's secret service fund, and the people believe he was right. Formerly the Mayor of Louisville had a secret service fund of $1,000. Last year it was raised to $2,000, and now an attempt has been made to make it still higher. Is this another Rooseveltian idea? Is Mayor Grinstead following in the wake of the president of the United States? The forces of the city administration are honeycombed with spies now, and every man's eyes and ears are trained against his brothers.

The Louisville Evening Post has championed the cause of the present management of the Louisville Water Company, and declares that things may be better in 1912. Three years to wait! The Post says that the present management had to change the discount from 20 to 5 per cent, on account of mismanagement of the old Democratic officials. And yet Mayor Bingham started an investigation of the Louisville Water Company's affairs that cost the city quite a sum of money, and the investigation revealed that the water company's affairs had not been mismanaged.

The following officers have been elected by the American Catholic Historical Society for 1909: President, Ignatius J. Dohan; Vice President, the Rev. P. R. McDevitt; Recording Secretary, Miss Jane Campbell; Treasurer, Theodore A. Beck; Managers, the Rev. Hugh T. Henry, Litt. D., J. L. D., the Rev. Rev. Henry T. Drumgoole, LL. D., Walter George Smith, Samuel Castner, Jr., and Francis A. Cunningham. The twenty-fifth anniversary of the society will occur in July, for which a souvenir history of the organization will be issued.

ONLY TWO RULERS NEGLIGENT

Emperors, Kings and the chief rulers of many republics have vied with the artisan and the village priest in congratulating the simple old man who sits in the chair of St. Peter on the fiftieth anniversary of his celebration of his first mass.

The other day, surrounded by his court and the small Papal army, Pius X. went in procession to the geographical map room of the Vatican to open an exhibition of the present he has received during the year. Hardly an epistle or a deputation or a pilgrimage has been received by the Pope since the beginning of the year that has not brought some material offering to emphasize good wishes. Many gifts have arrived from the uttermost parts of the earth, sent by small congregations unable to quit their homes to present them in person.

Special envoys despatched by powerful monarchs have brought costly presents in the names of their sovereigns.

The house of Hapsburg, as befits the crown land of the Vatican, heads the list. Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria sent by his special envoy, Prince Carl of Schwarzenburg, a magnificent cross supposed to be made from a portion of the original cross and surrounded by fifty large diamonds and seventy rubies. The Emperor of Germany, always reverent toward the Papacy, sent by his messenger a massive chiseled gold sent with the Papal arms carved on a large bloodstone. King Alfonso of Spain, who though one of the children of the church, has not yet visited the Vatican since his accession, chose from the treasures of the Escurial a splendid oriental carpet of unique design, which in the future will cover the floor of the Vatican library.

King Manuel of Portugal presented a large silver vase, decorated with emphs and flowers, which Pius X. declared worthy to be placed beside the masterpieces of the Vatican Ceiling. The college of Cardinals combined to make a large present of Peter's Pence, which amounted to nearly $20,000. The priests and superiors of the Papal household presented a fine specimen of Persian carpet ware specially ordered from the Orient.

The gifts of the Irish parishes particularly pleased the Pope. They include large numbers of pieces of fine Irish lace, some made as vestments and others for trimming altar cloths, etc. In admiring and commenting on these, Pius X. called to mind the early converts in Ireland and the continued faithfulness of the Irish to the Roman Catholic church, and in sending a special blessing through Cardinal Logie he said:
"These children have always been among the faithful to the church, and even to me, though I have never known them, they send these beautiful offerings."

The present Pope was always beloved among his rectorors and disciples when Patriarch of Venice.
Therefore he was specially gratified when they visited Rome en masse a few weeks ago and presented him with a goodly sum of Peter's Pence.
Several large gifts from his former parishioners. One old woman who had been befriended by the Pope years ago when he was Bishop of Treviso sent him a large cheese of her own making. Some peasants from a district of the Campagna where the Pope had caused the church to be rebuilt brought him in a splendid selection of fruit, and an attendant in Sicily sent him a case of old wine.

The number of chalices, crosses and reliquaries which have been sent to the Pope in the last twelve-month is innumerable. The women of England, Ireland and Scotland alone sent 362, which were presented to the Pontiff in person by the Duchess of Norfolk as their representative.
North America contributed many more. The Knights of the Holy Sepulchre gave the Pope a number of portable altars, each complete with the proper vessels.

Pius X. does not mean that these beautiful and at the same time useful gifts shall be hidden in the Vatican, useless and unseen. The chalices, vestments, altars, etc., will be divided among the poorer parishes which can not afford to provide good ones. The priests of the Roman Campagna, where the population is sparse and poor, will be particularly looked after.

It develops that King Edward VII. of England and Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States, are the only rulers of civilized countries who have not at least sent their congratulations to His Holiness on the occasion of his golden sacerdotal jubilee.

CARDINAL INVITED.

Cardinal Gibbons has been invited by President Roosevelt to speak at the celebration of Abraham Lincoln's centenary on February 12. The celebration will be held in Larnie county.
He will probably accept the invitation.

AID FOR FALLEN.

The Paulist Fathers of Chicago have founded a society for the aid of women and girl prisoners, irrespective of race or creed. The Rev. Father Richard S. Cartwright, C. S. P., formerly of Dorchester, Mass., is the founder of the society.

WHAT IT IS.

In an editorial on the subject, the Tablet of Brooklyn thus defined the Catholic press:

The Catholic press is:
An eternal bond of unity.

A channel of communication between the Bishops and clergy and the faithful people.

The builder of Catholic thought and Catholic opinion on every question affecting Catholic interests.

An organ of appeal and defence.
The readiest exponent and defender of the church's doctrines and practices.

The medium of warning against dangers to faith and morals.

The voice that summons the Catholic people to protect their rights.
The mirror of Catholic life.

The powerful auxiliary of the pulpit and the complement of the parish school.

The consecration of the great modern invention to the service of the church.

The antidote to the poison of the secular press.

The destroyer of non-Catholic calumnies and prejudices.

The blessing of clean, wholesome, Christian reading for the home.

DIED IN JEFFERSONVILLE.

John Gleason, a respected resident of Jeffersonville, died at the home of his brother, Thomas Gleason, 808 West Front street, Friday afternoon of last week, and the funeral took place from St. Augustine's church Monday morning.

The deceased was forty years old, and death resulted from consumption, which followed an attack of pneumonia. The remains were interred in St. John's cemetery, Louisville. Two sisters, Mrs. Andrew Kimmick and Miss Mary Gleason, and three brothers, Thomas, Robert and Patrick Gleason, all residents of Jeffersonville, survive him.

RUMORS OF CHANGES.

It is current in American ecclesiastical circles that Monsignor Falconio, the Apostolic Delegate, is soon to return to Rome to be given higher honors, presumably the red hat of a Cardinal. The same rumor has it that Monsignor Averani, Apostolic Delegate to Cuba and Porto Rico, will be the successor to Monsignor Falconio as Delegate to the United States.

FOR CHURCH AND SCHOOL.

The people of Highland Park and their friends throughout the city are preparing to give a grand encore at Zeller's Hall, Shelby and Roselane streets, on the afternoon and evening of Thursday, February 4, for the benefit of St. Leo's church and school. Many handsome prizes have been donated. Tickets are being sold for twenty-five cents. The afternoon game will be called at 2 o'clock and the evening game at 8 o'clock.

HOME FROM ROME.

Archbishop John J. Glennon, of St.
Louis, arrived in New York City last Saturday from Ireland, where he visited relatives after his departure from Rome, where he spent several weeks. The Archbishop was granted special and several conferences with Pius X., to whom he reported several subjects, including the Catholic census of this country.

NOTRE DAME LEADS.

The Notre Dame University basket ball team arrived home last week from its extensive Southern trip, taken during the Christmas holidays.
The showing was excellent, the five-winning fourteen out of sixteen games, although they bumped up against strong teams and continually were on the road. As in studies, Notre Dame leads in athletics.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE.

William Kerberg, Robert T. Barke and Charles S. Raily have been appointed by President Kieffer, of Mackinac Council, to arrange with the Rev. Father Eugene for an illustrated lecture. These lectures are of wide renown, and the committee will take immediate steps to secure Father Eugene's services.

WANTS PRIEST'S ADVICE.

President Roosevelt has sent a personal invitation to the Rev. Father Eugene to attend the conference which will be held January 25 and 26 to discuss the child problem. While in Washington Father Foy will be the guest of the President at the White House on the afternoon of January 25.

FEASTS AND FASTS.

The ecclesiastical calendar shows the following table of movable feasts and fasts for 1909: Ash Wednesday, February 24; first Sunday in Lent February 28; Palm Sunday, April 4; Good Friday, April 9; Easter Sunday, April 11; Ascension day, May 20; Whit Sunday, May 30; first Sunday in Advent, November 28.

BOSLER-ACKERMAN.

Miss Catherine Louise Bosler and Edward Ackerman, both well and favorably known in the East End, surprised their friends by being quietly wedded in the rectory of St.
Martin's church Tuesday evening.
The Rev. Father Louis Ohle performed the ceremony.

CONDITION ALARMING.

Lawrence Landherr, one of the best known young men in Jeffersonville, and an active member of St.
Edward's parish, is seriously ill of typhoid fever. His illness has continued over a period of eight weeks and his friends are alarmed about his condition.

GEORGE LAWO HONORED.

Chicago Council of Memphis did a nice thing when it made George A.
Lawa a life member. It is the highest honor that can be conferred on a member of the Young Men's Institute.

PLANT TONIC.

A tablespoonful of castor oil poured on the ground around the roots of palms and ferns once a month will give them a rapid growth and make them look fresh and green.

CATHOLICS

Have Historical Interest in Our Beautiful National Capitol.

More Than Two Centuries Ago the City of Rome Was Planned.

Site of the Government Buildings Was Purchased From a Carroll.

SOME DATA OF GREAT INTEREST

It may be worth while for Catholics, at least American Catholics, to know that their forebears had a part in planning the city of Washington.
It is a historical fact that in 1663, or more than a century before the Revolutionary war, that the site upon which the city of Washington now stands was laid out on paper by the followers of Lord Baltimore, and was called Rome. A gentleman named Pope owned the soil, and a stream called the Tiber flowed through the tract. The Tiber is now covered up and is part of the sewer system of Washington, but one of its main springs furnishes all the drinking water used at the White House, Daniel Carroll, a Catholic and a relative of the first Bishop of Baltimore, owned the land later, and at the time that the City of Washington was being built was a great friend of George Washington.

Daniel Carroll was born in Prince George county, Maryland, in 1756. He was a large land owner, and followed farming for an occupation. He was a delegate from Maryland to the Continental Congress which sat from 1780 to 1784, and later was a member of the convention which framed the constitution of the United States.
As a member of the first Congress of the United States, to which he was elected as a Federalist, he took an active part in securing the seat of the Government in Maryland, and in 1791 was appointed by Washington one of the Commissioners to locate the District of Columbia and the Federal city.

In the fall of 1791 he met Washington one day by appointment at Suter's Tavern in Georgetown, and the two rode on "milk-white" horses over the ground of the proposed site.
President Washington accompanied Carroll to his home on the Corn Abbey Manor farm, and "stayed all night." The whole of the next day was spent in consulting and planning, and it is said that on that occasion it was definitely decided where the capitol should be located.

It would appear therefore that a Catholic had a voice in the location of the capitol and District of Columbia, and owned the land of the site; another Catholic planned the streets, avenues and sites for public buildings, while still another Catholic ceded the land on which was to be erected the future home of the Presidents of the United States.

In 1800 Washington was a city of antipathies; its site was little better than a wilderness. A sketch of Washington in embryo, compiled from rare historical researches of Dr. Joseph M. Toner, prior to 1792, was published in 1898. This map was made before the survey by Peter Charles LeBlond, the French engineer officer selected by Washington to lay out a plan for the future city. David Burns, a member of Father McCaffrey's parish, which in 1794 became St. Patrick's, owned the land on which the White House now stands. Daniel Carroll was the owner of Corn Abbey Manor, a plantation of about 600 acres, located on Capitol Hill, and running from there to the Potomac river, "Pawtawnee" as it was then called. On his property was erected the Capitol of the United States, and in more recent years the Congressional Library and other public buildings. The wing of the Capitol occupied by the House of Representatives was formerly the site of the manor house, the residence of Daniel Carroll, the largest room of which was used as a chapel, and the spot where then stood the altar is, according to the chart, very near the desk of the Speaker.

The act to locate the seat of the national Government on the Potomac was passed by Congress and approved July 15, 1790. Prior to that date the seat of the Government had been a movable body. After the battle of Brandywine, September 11, 1777, Congress was removed from Philadelphia to Bristol; then to Baltimore; then to York, Pa., and from there successively to Princeton, Trenton, New York and Annapolis. By the terms of the act the seat of the Government was to remain in Philadelphia for ten years, after which it was to be located permanently in Washington.

In 1800 the population of Washington was about 3,000, most of whom were workmen employed on the public buildings. Total number of houses 372—109 of brick and 263 of frame. The population of the whole District including Georgetown and Alexandria was 14,000.

CHEERFULNESS.

There is scarcely an evil in life which we can not double by pondering upon it; a scratch will thus become a serious wound, and a slight illness be made to end in death by the brooding apprehensions of the sick. On the other hand, a mind accustomed to look upon the bright side of all things will repel the mildew and dampness of care by its genial sunshine. A cheerful heart paints the world as it sees it, like a sunny landscape; the morbid mind depicts it like a sterile wilderness; and thus life, like the chameleon, takes its shade from the soil upon which it rests. Cheerfulness keeps up a perpetual serenity, and is in itself an offshoot of goodness.

Old blue is one of the latest dyes for afternoon toilettes, and it is made effective with black embroidery.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing the Past Week—General News Notes.

Division 1 will give the County Board a hearty greeting Tuesday night.

The County Board will take up the question of the observance of St.
Patrick's day at the next meeting.

Division 1 meets Tuesday night, and as several questions of importance are to be decided the officers urge all the members to attend.

Division 1 of Jeffersonville meets next Tuesday night, when final action will be taken on the celebration of the feast of St. Patrick, March 17.

Owing to increased business engagements Lawrence Mackey, who is now a full fledged attorney, has been compelled to resign as recording Secretary of Division 3.

Division 3 had a fine attendance at its meeting last week. President Sullivan announced the committee for 1909, which are the same as those of the year just closed.

Much enthusiasm was manifested at the meeting of the Minnesota Illustrated Insurance Fund officers held last week, and the belief was expressed that the new rates the order will grow in popularity.

Wednesday night the Ladies' Auxiliary will have much business to transact, and Miss Rose Sweeney requests the presence of all the members. It has been hinted that there is a surprise in store for this meeting.

Hibernians in the Falls Cities were greatly alarmed when they heard that genial Barney Coll, one of the most popular members in the order, was stricken and had to be removed to his home in Jeffersonville on Friday of last week.

Division 2 of Chicago will hold its St. Patrick's day reception and ball on February 20, for the reason that it is the last Saturday before Lent, and still more important it is the anniversary of the birth of the Apostle of Ireland.

Division 4 still continues to lead in membership, but a determined effort will be made by Divisions 1 and 3 to acquire this proud position before another year rolls round. President Hennessy says he has no fear of the result of a contest.

Division 2 held its first meeting of the new year last night. President Ford and all the officers being present. Plans for an active membership campaign were outlined, and it is the hope of the members to double their number before this time next year.

All Hibernians are invited to the meeting of Division 3 next Thursday night, which will close with a social session and an abundance of refreshments. This division has a reputation for events of this kind, and those who attend are certain to spend an enjoyable evening.

President E. J. Welsh has called the County Board to meet Tuesday night at the hall of Division 1. This will be the first meeting of the body this year and the presence of every delegate is requested. In addition to the regular business plans for the celebration of St. Patrick's day will be discussed. It is not thought there will be any change in the religious observance from that of recent years.

TRINITY COUNCIL

Is Arranging For Bazar
and Other Interesting Events.

Had weather had no terrors for the members of Trinity Council last Monday night, and President James B. Kelly complimented them on their prompt attendance. Three applications were received, and it was announced that an initiation would be held next Monday night. A eulogie and dance will be given next Thursday night, with Val Lott, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee.

A meeting of the various committees and the ladies who are assisting in getting up the bazar will be held at Trinity's club house tomorrow afternoon, when final arrangements for this great event will be made.
Quite a number of handsome prizes have been secured, and a lively interest has been aroused over the contest among the ladies who are selling tickets.

Trinity has arranged for a series of lectures to be given from the present time until after Lent. These lectures will be given by the members of the council, and promise to be quite interesting.

SEVERE INJURIES.

President of Local I. T. U.
Run Down by Street Car.

W. H. Stanley, President of Typographical Union No. 10 and one of the oldest and best known printers in Louisville, was so seriously injured by being hit by a street car that his death may ensue. The accident occurred Tuesday morning when Mr. Stanley was en route to the office of the Louisville Times, where he is employed as proofreader.
Six ribs were broken, and one of them punctured his lung. He is sixty-six years old, and his advanced age makes his recovery doubtful. His two sons, Drs. Matt and Sam Stanley, are distressed over their father's condition.

Mr. Stanley is now serving his third term as President of the local Typographical Union, and has been with the Courier-Journal and Times for thirty years. Every union printer in Louisville and many scattered abroad are sorry that Mr.
Stanley has met with such a serious accident, and all hope for his speedy recovery.

The annual meeting of St. Joseph's organization was financially sound and the orphans well kept.

It was the sixty-sixth annual meeting of the society and the members the society and congratulated the retiring officers. President John Kup-
